resurveyed. J. W. Barr, Esq. and Cel. W. H. Moss, the former representing Rainsford, the latter myself, were finally called on to make the said survey. J. W. Barr, on the day appointed, appeared-Col. Moss failed to attend, and thereupon I agreed that Mr. Barr might make the survey | teem, alone, though I had never known him until that day. Mr. Barr now stood ready to make the survey. The corners I supposed had been all estabto. Mr. Rainsford, however, objected to Mr. Barr a cotton planter of this parish, places on our starting the survey unless he would first prove from his crop, which is literally covered with the date of the corner, at which he was to start, that great enemy to the plant, "the army was not anticipated. The corner was an old one, to the full grown, vigorous musticator of a stake, and had disappeared but whose wherethe adjoining land, and admitted that to be the corner, and had never before heard it doubted as the corner. Besides, Mr. Rainsford was present when that line was run at the time of my purchase of the land from Elder, and the corners identically the same as now, only, that the stake for daily rains, with a heavy atmosphere when was visible. Mr. Barr cut into the pointers but was unable to date them. He then went to the other extreme corner to start. Mr. Rainsford made the same objection and the same requisition. This corner was a rock near which lay an old decayed log with pointers, plain to be seen, but whose date could not be ascertained. Mr. Glover, whose line calls for this rock, was present and said it was the corner. Mr. Barr now said, here is a rock corner corresponding to the plat; there is the time, and we suppose McClellan Napoleon branch at the proper distance, according to the plat, from the rock, and here is an old log with old pointers on it, I will run the line from the rock to the middle corner, and if the course and distance be about right, said, I think, he would be satisfied. Mr. Rainsford still persisted in his demand for the proof of the date of the corner, which it was clear, from the nature of the case, could not be produced. Mr. Rainsford's Miller land adjoins the Cotter land and corners on the

It was now very clear to be seen by me, that Mr. Rainsford's objections would prevent the running of the line; claiming that the plat would not run the line as established by A. R. Able. I had always known, and admitted that the plat varied from the rock corner a little; and to avoid hair solltring, I elitined (and it was agreed to) that an explica from the Surveyor, that the line I was offering. Rainsford was the one the plat intended to represent: was to be sufficient to establish it. The question was reduced to this: The plat did represent a line in that vicinity somewhere and seemed to vie with each other in contributing to nore other but the one located by A. R. Able had her comfort and happiness. But after great trib ever been, in the slightest degree, indicated by thatlor and pain she has been called from earth to heaven—a glorieus and delightful change any of the surveyors that I ever heard of, ferred to by me in which he is quite mistaken, for I referred to no plat by which this survey should be made. If. B. Filder, the man chosen by him Alaski agreed to by me, was the man who designated the plan by which Mr. Barr should make the survey; and I feel well assured that Mr. Barr's trip on the line would have resulted very differently, bad Mr. Rainsford acceded to my proposition made through Gen. Griffin to him several months previous to Mr. Barr's efforts on the line This proposition man, that the survey a should go on the line with all the papers and his charabearers, and Rainsford and iny o'l to Log . way. nd bear the converor's report only. This proposition was objected to, as he desired to be present when the line was run.

Mr. Raincford says in his eard that " Mr. Barr, testing the line according to rule, decided that it could not be established by the plat referred to by mg." I repeat that I work to reflective to may It whatever, by which this surrey was to be mile. H. B. Ebler, who see by Mr. Bainsford, an agreed to by me, to certify the disputed line, washe non-who designated the plat by which thicurvey was to be made, and also had located thanit ile cerner so widely different to what Mr. Rasford claimed for its locality, and which diffence, of necessity, created the triangular slip of Ed in dispute, by both lines coming together A Rainsford further says: " Hence the last poinin controversy was settled, as I understand it, cirly in my favor, and against the representatis of Dr. J. A. Devore." If Mr. Barr ever streted a chain on the line in question, I am not sare of it, and I was present with him on the le all the while. And if he has ever made tracthe being short the triangular slip, in his opinit, which slip was made by the difference in the fallity of the middle corner by himself, and the loticy of it by A. R. Able and H. B. Ebler: the lay of whom was chosen by himself (as I have fore said) to settle the line in dispute. I sunit the matter to the decision of a dis-

For the above mentioned diseases, it is a sov ereign remedy, and will not fail in effecting a cure if the patient is not too penurious to persovere in the taking of the Remedy. If one package den't cure you, try another, and still another, and rest assured it will not fail in accomplishing all that is promised. And another thing you may rest assured of, that you cannot take it long without seeing and feeling that it has already be-gun to benefit you; and if so, continue taking it regularly, and follow out all the directions—and you WILL SOON BE WELL AGAIN. The REMEDY is for sale by Dr. C. W. & J. B. HODGES and E. M. PENN, Edgefield, S. C., at $2 per package. 29
